Forest Park Advantages.

Lots are now offered for sale in the Forest Park addition at prices from $200, to $500, each. No other lots in the city are in market, which combine so many attractions for charming homes. Broad avenues, excellent streets, high elevation, numerous shade trees, natural drainage, varied scenery and unusual accessibility, are some of the desirable features of the property. The streets are being graded at the expense of the company. Lots of almost any size—ranging from four rods by eight to those containing an acre or more can be obtained; Plans of the property can be seen at the office of any of the directors of the company, who will cheerfully give any information desired.

For SALE—A new two-story Queen Anne house, with good cellar, furnace mantel, grate, gas, water, etc. Terms reasonable. Enquire on premises, 168 South Linn St., fourth ward.

On September 1st, 1887, I must make my report as an assignee of F. S. Lawrence & Co., and in order to do so the remaining stock of wall paper, books and stationery must be sold by August 15th. Come in, look the stock over, make an offer, and you will go away happy.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

—Northwestern men profited to-day by a visit of the company's pay car.

—It is said that Enoch Taylor, of the third ward, was married July 17th at Beloit, to Miss Belle Smith of that city.

—Along the Northwestern road, south of this city, sparks from locomotives falling in the dry grass have caused much damage.

—Miss Ada W. Eldred gave a pleasant reception last evening at the home of her father, Mr. F. S. Eldred, South Jackson street.

—Janitor Sam Stone, of the Central school building, is as happy as the boy in his first pair of red-topped boots. He is a healthy little baby boy, of recent arrival.

—Our information regarding changes in the postoffice came to us direct from the Recorder office, and that paper being of the administration party, we supposed the information was reliable.

—Marshal Hogan took out his patrol wagon this morning and saw that the Forest Park lane, which has caused so much talk in the municipal court lately, was once more opened.

—Judge Bennett decided to-day that John McKnight, of Beloit, didn't deserve to have a wife. In consequence he granted Mrs. McKnight a divorce. The charges were drunkenness and cruelty.

—No one doubts that the Okechelon piano next week will be one of the successes of the season. The programme arranged is surprisingly good. Everyone should go, and bring their baskets.

—Judge Patterson has decided the alley leading from Main street to Forest Park a public highway. Judgment in the sum of one dollar was rendered against E. T. Brown for obstructing it.

—Miss Jennie Hodson entrusted about sixty young friends at a progressive euchre party last evening. The company was in honor of Miss Hodson's guest, Miss Wilkins, of Chicago, and was very enjoyable.

—The members of Olive Branch Lodge, A. O. U. W., their families and friends are having a good time at Crystal Springs this afternoon. The last boat will start up the river for the springs at six o'clock.

—Within a few days Chicago morning papers will be received here at 9:20 morning. The bundles will come by way of Watertown Junction, reaching that point at 6:40 and leaving for Janesville twenty minutes later.

—Ice cream soda is now considered the proper thing by everybody. Stearns & Baker, who have the original Chicago formula, sell more of it than all the other dealers combined. There is also a remarkable run on it at the Star.

—Oh, rats! What is the Recorder giving us? Their latest charge against the Gazette concerning the Sunday liquor selling embargo, is something like the little boy's threat: "You stop throwing stones at our barn, or I'll make faces at you dog."

—The Daughters of Rebecca Sewing Circle will picnic at Crystal Springs, Saturday, July 28, afternoon and evening. A general invitation is extended to all friends of the society. Round trip tickets 25 cents. Music and dancing in the evening. The Rebekahs will make it pleasant for all who attend.

—When the weather gets cooler there is to be a ball game between the doctors and the druggists that will make things hot. At least, it looks that way now. The druggists are getting ready to send out a challenge and if the doctors won't respond, their places will be taken by somebody else.

—Funeral services over the remains of Miss Mary Cody were held at St. Patrick's church this morning. The Rev. Father McGinnity officiated. There was a large attendance, and the sorrow shown on every face could not be mistaken. At the close of the service the remains were taken direct to the Milwaukee & St. Paul depot, and from there to Whitewater. The interment took place at the cemetery in that city, where others of the family were already buried.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

—Dr. C. L. Clark is in Chicago to-day on business.

—W. G. Wheelock now commences with the good people at Monona.

—Miss Kittie Farnsworth went to Rockford on a short visit this morning.

—Joseph Hershman, of New York, the well known tobacco man, is registered at the Grand.

—A. A. Jackson went to Chicago this morning on business, accompanied by his son, Frank D. Jackson.

—Mr. Lou Ford, of Chicago, is visiting in the city, the guest of his cousin Herbert Ford, of the first ward.

—Mrs. A. C. Dow, of Topka, Kansas, will spend part of the summer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Wheeler.

—Miss Annie Nunn, who has been visiting in the city for a week past, will return to her home in Madison this evening. She will be accompanied by Miss Cora Olenius of the first ward.

—Mrs. M. K. Dietrich, of Green Castle, Pennsylvania, started for Chicago yesterday, on her way home. Mrs. Dietrich has been spending a few days with her brother, Mr. J. B. Hayes, of the first ward.

INTEREST TO CAMPERS.

Those going from this city to Geneva Lake have already found Gibbons' "lure line" from Sharon to Fontana Park, a great convenience. It is under the most competent of management and is so thoroughly appreciated to need praise in these columns. Our people will do well to patronize the old established line.

TIME TO WAKE UP!

Janesville Has Slept Long Enough—Why the City Fails to Grow.

Trade Some of the Unoccupied Land for Factories, and Do It Soon.

There Can Be No Boom Unless Everybody Helps—Delays Are Dangerous.

SEE THE BALL ROLLING.

The long anticipated boom of which Janesville people have talked, and for which they have patiently waited, has thus far failed to materialize. Our railway service has been greatly improved, making us one of the best railway centers in the northwest, with ample shipping facilities in all directions. Our street railway system is in good running order, with water-works already in sight, and yet the growth of the city is almost at a standstill. The question is often asked, "Why does not Janesville, with all her natural acquired advantages, keep pace with the growing cities of the state?" There are only two things that can contribute to any extent to our material development; the first, the location of a division of the C. & N. W. Ry., beyond our control; but the second, our manufacturing interests, is not only within our control, but it developed, will be done by home energy and enterprise.

The crop statistics, as prepared by the assessors and published in a recent issue of the Gazette, show that at the present time there is under cultivation within the city limits 1735 acres. This may speak well for the thrift of the soil, but when a city is able to devote almost half of her entire acreage to crop culture, she is raising too much grain and too few houses for rapid growth. If half of this acre property and an equal amount of surplus cash could be converted into half a dozen good factories, employing from eight hundred to one thousand men, with the increase in population, which would naturally follow, the long anticipated boom would be realized and property would increase in value at a rapid rate. The Business Men's Association, of the city of Rockford, in its report, compiled and published in the past year, contains a copy of an eighty-page pamphlet, containing a history of the city and its manufacturing interests. The enterprise will cost the association at a low estimate $1800, the object is simply to advertise the city. "A useless waste of money" is the verdict of every narrow minded man. But what has this kind of enterprise done for our neighboring city. From 1875 to 1885 she doubled her population. At the last named date she had fifty-five factories in successful operation, employing thousands of men. In the past two years she has added forty more factories and the city is growing every day. The business men and capitalists are united in their efforts to boom development. They look far enough into the future to see that every family that is induced to find a home among them, contributes to the wealth and prosperity of every other resident. No time is wasted over trivial discussions. Any manufacturer who can make a reasonable showing, can secure capital. A leading banker of the city said to the writer five years ago, "Can't you send us a good practical whip man? We don't care whether he has capital or not, if he understands manufacturing. Almost every other line is represented, and we want a whip factory." This is the spirit backed up with money that has made Rockford.

The one object which over shadows all others is growth. If the business men of Janesville were equally united the long expected boom would be realized without delay. There are factories of every description scattered over the eastern states that, could be readily induced to locate in our fair city. A word of encouragement endorsed by a little generosity, is all that is needed to set the ball in motion. If our Business Men's Association is unable to harmonize all the contending elements, let us, for heaven's sake, have an organization that will. Every man ought to be interested in our own prosperity, and every man of ordinary sense must see that all we lack as a city is more people. Instead of allowing our manufacturing interests to slip away from us, let us reinforce them and double the number. Because one or two concerns, by bad management, make a failure, it is no argument against manufacturing.

The Gazette is in favor of a home boom. Let us wake up and advertise the town and invest time and money, if necessary, to induce more people to come and live with us.

THE ROYAL ADELPHI.

The charter members of the Royal Adelphe Society met last evening at the office of Dr. C. L. Clark to perfect an organization. The following were elected and installed as officers:

Commander—Dr. Thor Judd.

Vice Commander—J. P. Baker.

Assistant Commander—George Scarcliff.

Post Commander—W. B. Bonsteel.

Secretary—O. W. Wells.

Collector—E. O. Stearns.

Treasurer—Frank Sherer.

Guide—Frank L. Hayden.

Warden—Chas. E. Curtis.

Guard—H. W. Kendall.

Sentinel—Ed. Murdock.

Trustees—Olareson L. Clark, R. O. Yeomans and J. C. Williams.

Medical Examiners—Dr. J. W. St. John and Dr. C. L. Clark.

The name adopted was Rock River Conclave, Royal Adelphe. The meeting adjourned for one week to give those who desire to join as charter members and thus save the fee of $10 an opportunity to do so.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 71 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 93 degrees above zero. Clear with east wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 70 and 102 degrees above zero.

Twelve cents a week pays for the DAILY GAZETTE—SEND IN YOUR NAME.

Herb Allen—Thinking out a new style of fall bonnet that will be just too awfully sweet for any use.

Ed. Sheriff Hershman—Eating cracked ice and trying to beat Will Eldridge at progressive euchre.

Turkey Ross—Entertaining the prisoners at the jail with a revised version of "White Wings."

Charley Larrant—Studying maps of the tropical zone to find a winter resort where coasting is unknown.

Lee Wilson—Whispering sweet nothings to some unknown person through the telephone.

George H. Osgood—Wishing they wouldn't ring fire alarms just as he is sitting down to supper.

City Treasurer Murphy—Wondering what attraction there is to keep a young man in this wicked world.

J. P. Baker—Revising Spalding's base-ball play in anticipation of the game between druggists and doctors.

Our Esteemed Contemporary—Gliding swiftly back into its hole and calling for some kind hearted philanthropist to slam the door after it.

EXPENSIVE TOBACCO SMOKE.

Needs That Germinate Quickly.

The human system is a fruitful soil, and among seeds that germinate most rapidly in it are those of rheumatism and neuritis. A slight cold, brought on by sitting in a draught, wet foot or damp clothes, will develop either of those formidable painful maladies with unpleasant rapidity. The proper preventive of the agonizing rheumatism is Elett's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which nullifies a tendency to either of the above named ailments. Not many are more than four stories high. The palaces, universities, picture galleries, and other public buildings cover a great deal of ground, as they are built in a square, with a court in the center; or are long buildings, with wings on either side. Friday was a holiday (St. John's), and everything was closed; so we could not accomplish much. Took a ride, and visited the National Museum, where we saw the progress of art for several centuries. Relics of the thirty years' war, implements of torture, wearing apparel, old furniture, etc. To go back a little, I will say that we left Indianapolis, where my sister and I were, on Monday morning, and after a long drive, two hours, then drove on over the Brumley Pass to Alpech, on an arm of Lake Lucerne; then we took boat again for Lucerne; from there we went to the hotel, where we were to stay. The hotel was a beautiful one, with a fine view of the lake and the mountains. We were called at 3:30 by the Alpine horn to see the sunrise above the mountains, but only to be disappointed, as the sun was obscured by clouds; and the sun being nearly ready to set, gave a fine view of the lake and the mountains. ## TRAVELING IN EUROPE.

An Interesting Letter from Mrs. Leavitt, Now Traveling in Europe.

The Picture Galleries and Old Palaces of Munich, Germany.

The Beautiful Fountains and Works of Art.

MUNICH, Germany, June 26, '87.

While waiting for the rest of our party to go to breakfast, I will commence a letter and finish it if I have time. I sent you a postal from Lucerne, on receipt of yours of May 30th, in which you intimated that you proposed sending extracts of my letters to the press. I can assure you that I never thought of such a thing and am afraid that they will appear very tame in print.

We are now on German soil, where we have to change our currency, which is very annoying, as in Italy it is francs and centimes, while here it is marks and pfennigs. While procuring a cake of soap yesterday, it cost me 44 cents; as the woman cheated me out of a mark in making change, as I thought it was to be the best way, I presume I shall now be able to reckon German money. Yesterday we succeeded in making a very good day's work.

Made an early start and first went to the Pinakothek (picture gallery) then to the gallery of Horae. The furnishing was all made of deer's horns, of different varieties; and were shown in all stages. From there we visited a private collection of pictures, which were very fine. We also visited the royal palace—old and new; both located around one court. Were shown the throne rooms in the old part. The tapestry on the walls was red velvet, embossed with gold and furniture to match. Saw the mirror room, room of miniature paintings set in the walls; also the bed room where it is said 300,000 horses were used in the embroidery. The floors were laid with black and white marble. Decorations, white and gold, with twelve colossal, defunct kings in bronze, between the columns. The ball room was a beautiful hall—decorations, Pompeian style, bas-relief in colors, symbolic of dancing and music. Two rooms were devoted to portraits of beautiful women connected with the court. Went to numerous other rooms, but there was so much to see that it became tiresome. After dinner we visited the royal stables, where the coaches and sledges, of the past one hundred and fifty years are kept. They are gorgeous affairs—upholstered in gilt and blue velvet, with harnesses and saddles to match. Prince Ludwig II, who not long ago committed suicide, was the most extraordinary king of modern times, and like Louis XVI, studied how to squander money. He had three palaces—one after Versailles, which exceeds it in desecration. To-morrow we expect to visit it, when I shall be able to tell you something more explicit. In the afternoon, visited Hop Theatre, to see the machinery behind the footlights, also Royal Bronze foundry, and felt quite at home and delighted to see models of our own countrymen—Washington, Lincoln, Edward Everett, Webster, Peabody and many others. In front of the Hall of Fame, there is a colossal statue of Bismarck, and, looking my hand on a part of the figure, I found it hardly covered one finger nail, so you can judge somewhat of its size, as six persons can stand on the head. Another fine bronze is over the Gate of Victory—Bismarck in a chariot driving four horses, which were cast from guns taken from the Turks.

Monday, visited Ludwig, the second palace, which is the finest in Europe. The emblems of France are woven in the upholstery of furniture and curtains. The palace is not completed and probably never will be. The history of Bismarck is being depicted in the history of the palace. The decorations were a mass of gold and finest velvet. The parade hall chamber alone cost over a million marks. The mirror room contains twenty mirrors, thirty-five windows, opposite and between each, gold and silver gilt candles, brass for twenty-five hundred candles. Inlaid doors, seats, blue velvet embroidered with gold and silver,
